

The Homemade “Special Features” CDR comes in a white digipack with our red bird image hand painted on the front by Elaine Summers.

The CDR contains a “Commentary” track, recorded by Pete and Elaine, that accompanies the entire album. This is similar to a director’s commentary you would find on a DVD. They talk in detail about the recording process and introduce you to all of the great musicians who worked with them on the project.

In addition, you’ll also get demo recordings that will give you a further glimpse into the Droge and Summers creative process. Hear stripped-down versions of the songs, and see what the Droge and Summers, and the individual musicians eventually brought to those songs. Also, look out for early, alternate lyrics and other subtle differences.
